

HABS. CAL. 310

HABS
CAL.

La Casa De Los Alamitos Rancho
Seventh St. and Anaheim Road,
Long Beach, Los Angeles County, California.

[MEASURED DRAWINGS ONLY]

19-LONG-B

1-

WRITTEN HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE DATA
District of California #3.

Historic American Buildings Survey
Henry F. Withey, District Officer
407 So. Western Avenue.
Los Angeles, California.

LA CASA DE LOS ALAMITOS RANCHO
Seventh St. and Anaheim Road, Long Beach
Los Angeles County, California.

19- LONG B

1-

Owner and Occupant: Fred H. Bixby.

Date of Erection: about 1785 by Don Manuel Nieto.

Architect:

Builder:

Present Condition: Well preserved and maintained. Original house was of adobe construction, probably with a field stone foundation and a flat roof, as were all other buildings of that era. In the course of recent years the house has had a second story added to a portion of it, and a wood framed and shingled roof made to cover all parts. Wings and porches were added that change entirely the lines of the original structure.

Materials of Construction: Walls of original house are of adobe sun-dried brick plastered both sides. All subsequent additions and improvements have been of wood framing.

Other Existing Records:

Herbert Howe Bancroft's "History of California"
1884-90;

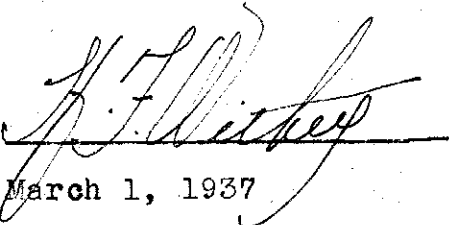

"Romance and History of California Ranchos" by Myrtle Garrison, 1935. pages 10 and 11 and 151-3.

"In Pursuit of Vanished Days" by Marion Parks, 1928
Annual publication of Southern California Historical Society.

"Adobe Days" by Mrs. Sarah Bixby Smith.

"History of Los Angeles - Biographical sketches of Fred. H. Bixby and Jotham Bixby" pages 17, vol. 11, and 539, vol. 111 by J. M. Guinn.

Additional Data: Los Alamitos Rancho is a part of the original grant of 68 square leagues made to Manuel Nieto in 1784.

March 1, 1937

TW 7/16/37